FALL, 15 CREDITS / SEPTEMBER — DECEMBER SPRING, 18 CREDITS / JANUARY — MAY

THE EXPERIENCE —

In EHP, juniors and seniors from all RISD departments and Brown University Visual Art and Architecture concentrators live and work in a 16th century palazzo, steps from Rome's most important historical and artistic sites, forming a collaborative and multidisciplinary learning environment.

EHP replicates the experience of the artistic residency, giving you the freedom and space to create while offering RISD's signature academic guidance. EHP's intercultural and interdisciplinary nature is encoded into the fabric of the program—it arises organically, as you absorb, collaborate with, and are inspired by your peers. EHP has been run by RISD in Rome since 1960.

THE PEOPLE —

- Ezio Genovesi: EHP Director and Art History faculty
- Chief Critic: a rotating RISD faculty appointed for the academic year
- Resident Fellow: a RISD + EHP alum appointed for the academic year
- Students: select juniors and seniors from a wide range of RISD departments (and Brown University Visual Art/Architecture concentrations)

THE PLACE —

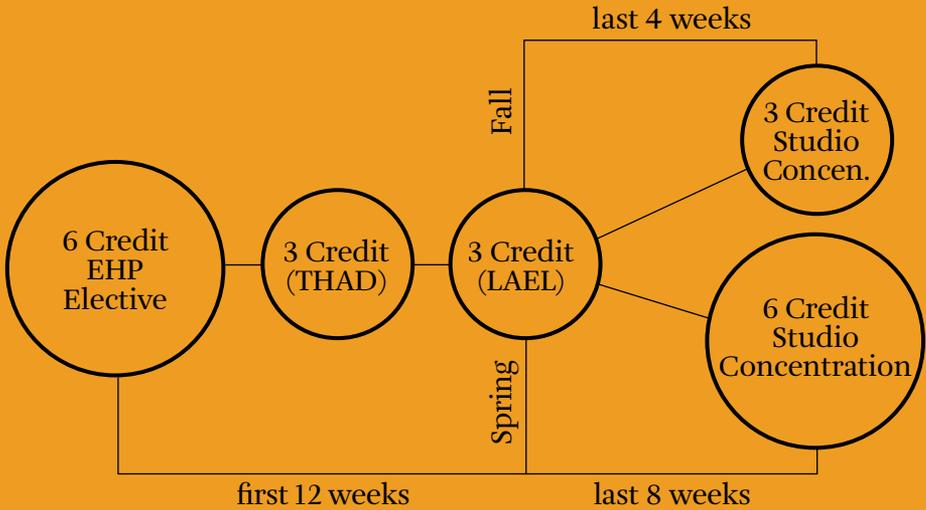

The Palazzetto Cenci, RISD's site in Rome, is the focal point of every EHP student's experience. You will live and cook in this 16th century noble home, which has been retrofitted to include studios, dorms, student lounges, 3 kitchens, and multiple workshops. As in a residency experience, you will have an assigned studio at the Cenci for the whole semester.

Located in the heart of Rome's Centro Storico, Palazzetto Cenci is within walking distance of the Pantheon, the Colosseum, the Roman Forum, the Vatican, as well as countless museums, galleries, and contemporary art spaces.
